

Visual Trial

Technology is a big part of our everyday world – including how we conduct trials. This presentation will demonstrate how to incorporate technology into case presentation to better communicate with the judge and jury.

Steven Kroll spent over twenty-six years as an Assistant State's Attorney for Baltimore County. As a Senior Trial Attorney and head of the Pray Jury Trial Division for twenty-four years he has tried hundreds of cases ranging from Disorderly Conduct to Death Penalty. He has spoken to over twenty-seven state prosecutor associations in the United States and Canada and has written extensively on trial advocacy and evidence issues. He has been awarded the Lecturer of Merit Award and the Distinguished Faculty award by the National College of District Attorneys. In 2016, he was awarded the Warren B. Duckett Jr. Commitment to Justice Award. In December 2010, Steven was appointed States' Attorney Coordinator for Maryland.
